The 2020 MAC and MHAC meetings were not held due to the Covid-19 pandemic, though the business meeting took place. In 2021 we gather to reconnect with care and thought for our collective safety, to share our research, and consider the impact of the pandemic on Midwestern Archaeology.

Please remember to social distance, mask, and wash your hands frequently. Stay healthy!

Anti-Harassment and Discrimination Policy

Based on our recent bylaws regarding harassment and discrimination, the Midwest Archaeological Conference affirms that we adhere to the SAA meeting Code of Conduct, which specifies that the following behaviors are prohibited:

- Harassment of any kind, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, and coercion
- Physical or verbal abuse, including bullying
- Unwelcome comments and/or exclusionary behaviors related to an individual's age, sex, gender identity and expression, perceived sexual identity, appearance or body size, military status, ethnicity, individual lifestyle, marital status, sexual orientation, physical or cognitive abilities, political affiliation, race, religion, or nationality
- Intimidation, stalking, or following

Any attendee who is required by their employer or by a legal process to refrain from certain behaviors or from contact with certain individuals is expected to adhere to those restrictions while participating in all SAA activities. Violation of employer requirements and/or legal restrictions will constitute a violation of this Code of Conduct if disclosed or reported. Meeting Safety Policy \(saa.org\) accessed 9/23/2021

Individuals with concerns should contact President Janet Brashler (brashlerj@mac.com) for assistance.

Meeting Notes

Social Distancing: Throughout our planning process we have considered the need for extra space and time to social distance while attending papers, posters, and social events.

Modifications include an outdoor reception, fewer places at tables for dining events, longer poster sessions, larger session rooms, spreading out vendors into two rooms, and so on. We hope these adjustments will help everyone feel safe.

Meeting Mobile App: The mobile app called “MAC 2021” is available from app stores for both Android and iOS users. It includes abstracts, the schedule, a messaging function, and more. It can also be located through <https://gridfriday.com/MAC/>.

Parking: Hotel guests park for free in the attached ramp. Non-guests may park in the same location for $1.50/hour or $12/day.

Papers: Papers are scheduled for 15 minutes, and session chairs and symposium organizers will keep the schedule on time.

Posters: Poster sessions are scheduled for longer periods so that attendees have more opportunity for viewing while social distancing. Authors will be in attendance during the indicated “presentation time” in the schedule.

Roundtables: Semi-informal discussions centered on specific topics facilitated by hosts.

Campus Archaeology Program Tours: Sign-up sheets are located at the registration table, each tour can accommodate 20 people.

Wi-Fi: Complimentary Wi-Fi is available throughout the hotel/conference center. To connect, open browser, select MSUNet Guest 3.0, and agree to the terms (password not required).

MAC All Member Inclusion Workshop Facilitator, Jennifer Stollman Bio:

Jennifer A. Stollman, PhD is the Founder and CEO of J.A. Stollman Consulting. Dr. Stollman is a world-renowned equity consultant specializing in building and sustaining inclusive workplaces and educational spaces. As an academic and consultant working across the nation, she has worked extensively with universities and colleges, medical systems, Fortune 100 companies, large and small businesses, government entities, law enforcement and judicial systems, non-profits, and community organizations to center inclusion, equity, diversity, and mattering. Jennifer has developed and honed techniques that can easily be used by individuals in their professional, community, and personal lives to minimize unproductive biased thinking and action. When it comes to addressing inequity to create more inclusive and diverse worlds, Jennifer believes that ordinary people can do extraordinary things. When Jennifer is not working, she enjoys hiking the Southwest, cycling America's roads, chasing her sweet dogs, Lincoln, Maisie, and Abby.

4:00 – 6:00 Roundtable: A Sustainable Future for the Wisconsin Northern Lakes Project Collections

Hosted by William Green (Logan Museum of Anthropology, Beloit College) (cash bar, registration required, limited to 30 participants)
Location: Centennial Room

In the 1960s, Robert J. Salzer directed the Wisconsin Northern Lakes Project. The resulting collections (>150,000 artifacts from 88 sites) are housed at the Logan Museum of Anthropology. The Paleo-Indian through Historic phase sequence defined on the basis of this material serves as northern Wisconsin's culture-historical framework. These collections were rehoused in 2006-2008, increasing their accessibility.

To honor Bob Salzer’s memory, we invite participants to reflect on the NLP, discuss its significance and legacy, and begin planning for the collection’s continued viability and utility. The discussion will strive to:

1. Identify the level of interest and the value of the NLP collection to Midwestern archaeology.
2. Outline an NLP strategic plan.
3. Identify resources for long-term support of the collection.

4:00 – 6:00 MAC Board Meeting, Room 102

6:00 – 7:00 Reception and Cash Bar, Room Big Ten A

7:00 Awards Banquet (& abbreviated business meeting),

The Conference on Michigan Archaeology (COMA) is an organization of professional archaeologists and experts in allied fields who actively pursue or have conducted archaeological research in Michigan.

Founded in 1966, COMA is the oldest and largest body of professional archaeologists in Michigan and is comprised of archaeologists who work for colleges and universities, state and federal agencies, and private companies.

As part of its efforts to encourage scientific research on Michigan archaeology and promote awareness of Michigan's cultural heritage to a wide audience, COMA is pleased to be a sponsor of the 2021 Midwest Archaeological Conference.
